S. P. CONTINUES WORK IN SONORA

General Manager Ingram Denies That Retrenchment Is to Be Adopted.

R. H. Ingram, general manager of the Southern Pacific in Mexico, and assistant general manager of the Son-orn railway, arrived in the city Tuesday morning on the delayed train of the Mexican National Rallway from Mexico City., Mr. Ingram has been making an inspection of the company's property in the republic.

Speaking of the plans of the South-ern Pacific in Mexico, Mr. Ingram took occasion to deny that it was ever the intention of the road to go into Manzanillo. "The road has obtained trackage agreement with the Mexican Na-tional road to go into Guadalajara from "The construction Orendain," he said. gangs are now in the most difficult part of the work in the Tepic country. the southernmost part reached being 20 kilometers south of the Rio Santingo. The road has two more years, by the terms of the concession, to complete the gap between Yago and Tequila. and it will be completed safety within this time. The bridge across the Rio Santlago has not been completed but is in the course of construction and will be available for use by the first "Passenger service will not be extended just yet as there is nothing to justify it until the gap is closed." Asked concerning the reported policy of retrenchment on the part of the Southern Pacific, Mr. Ingram stated that there was nothing to it so far as he knew. "It would not affect the construction work on the Southern Pa-

TRAINS NOW RUN TO PEARSON,, CHIA.

Brakeman Has Another Word Added to His Vocabulary in List of Calls.

The vocabulary of the passenger brakeman who runs on the Mexican Northwestern south from El Paso has been enlarged by one word, "Pearson." The train that left Juarez Monday at 1:25 p. m., Mexican time, pushed its nose to "the farthest point south" on the line of the Mexico Northwesterh. The train will arrive at Pearson at 7 in the afternoon on the running days, which are Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and return to Juarez on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 5:45 in the afternoon.

A daily service will probably be put on the line the first of next year and then the read will push its northern terminus across the Rio Grande to El Paso. It has already been graded, tracked and has secured terminal privileges from the union station company.

TOPEKA CONFIRMS KOUNS' APPOINTMENT

Railroad Officials Expect That Fox May Resign His New Position.

Dispatches from Topeka, Kas., con-firm the statement made by The Herald a week ago that C. W. Kouns has been appointed to succeed the late J. E. Hur-ley, as general manager of the eastern lines of the Santa Fe, and that F. C. Fox, the general superintendent, has been appointed to succeed Kouns, as general manager of the western lines. Fox, as general manager of the western lines, will have jurisdiction over the portion of the line operating to El Paso and will succeed Kouns as a mem-ber of the board of directors of the El Paso union station.

Notwithstanding the report of Mr. Fox's promotion, there is a persistent report in railroad circles that he is to resign. It has been reported that F. G. Pittlbone, general manager of the G. C. & S. F. would succeed Kouns if Fox

George Gorham Rice, an ex-convict, whose connection with the broker firm of B. H. Sheftela caused a small panic in the Wall street section of New York recently as shown by the gathered crowds in the street near the brokerage firm's offices. The first symptoms of the panic came when a curb broker hurried into the Sheftels office and wanted cash for a $757 check on the firm which he declared the National Reserve bank had refused to certify. Instantly the news spread, without there being any attempt to investigate or verify. In a few moments checks on the firm were being offered at 20 cents on the sollar discount. Then came the ugly rumor that Rice, an ex-convict might have had something to do with the trouble. The firm declared the reason for the bank not certifying was because it was past the hour. But Wall street refused to listen for a long while, and when many asked for Rice it was said he had left the city.

DEAF AND DUMB MAN IS ARRAIGNED IN COURT.

Judge Thought He Was Held on Large of Using Abusive Language—Many Arrests Made on Labor Day.

It's up to police court clerk and official interpreter, Pete Candelaria, to learn the sign language, if he would hold his position. Not for many moons has he been floored, being able to carry on a limited conversation with all of the many prisoners brought before judge Lea in police court, but he met his finish Tuesday morning. It came when Harry Brown, arrested Monday night, was arraigned.

"He's deaf and dumb," sergeant Davis whispered to the court.

"Deaf and dumb and charged with using abusive language; how can it be?" asked judge Lea, glancing down the police court blotter.

Judge Lea, however, then saw that Brown was charged with fighting, and after a written statement was made by Brown he was released. In a note to the court Brown stated: 'The Mexican boys hit me with a rock and I can show you where they hit me.' Judge Lea, however, did not ask for visible evidences.

"It's back to the cactus for you," said the court to W. J. Kelly, who stated he was a laborer hailing from Ysieta, and who was arrested Monday night. A charge of sleeping in a public place was the charge against him, "Let's see your hands," th court said.
